We are moving to a new epoch when AI and big data take a major part in both our professional career and daily life. At this moment, radiologists face inevitable challenging and this is the time that we become more important and relevant than we were before. The theme of ASCI 2019 is "Precision Cardiovascular Imaging." Precision CV imaging not only comes from technology, but also requires our discretion and active involvement in improving our knowledge. Therefore, the organizing committee has prepared inspiring educational courses as well as sparkling scientific programs. We also welcome interesting case reports.

We are looking forward to your participation and hope you can have a great time in Taipei.

Sincerely Yours,
